

Insider whispers: Political feuds, bureaucratic grip and opposition's gamble

A Sisyphean task: Uniting political rivers

By Kanhaiya Lodhi
Bhopal: The political landscape recently witnessed a major effort to reconcile two fiercely opposed leaders within a ruling party. A senior figure has taken on the challenging task of bridging the wide gap of disagreement and personal animosity between the two, which has consistently brought negative publicity to the party. While the outcome remains uncertain, those familiar with the regional political climate believe this endeavor is akin to trying to force two diverging rivers into a single stream.

Aiming high: Collector publicly blasted

In a separate incident, a sitting MLA put a Collector squarely on the spot during a public meeting, reportedly taking cover behind a major political figure. The MLA aggressively "held up a mirror" to the Collector regarding issues like fertilizer distribution and other unresolved grievances. The Collector was left speechless and embarrassed.

CS directs collectors, SPs to prioritise public issues

Instructions issued for welfare delivery, law-and-order, and administration

Bhopal: Chief Secretary Anurag Jain has issued a series of firm instructions to all Collectors and Superintendents of Police, stressing that public-related matters must receive top priority and that both departments must work in close coordination to ensure welfare schemes reach every eligible family. Chairing a video-conference review of action-taken reports from last month's Collectors' Conference, he focused on effective execution, monitoring, and teamwork across districts.

He instructed Collectors to hold monthly meetings of District Health and Nutrition Committees and to regularly inspect district hospitals to ensure proper delivery of patient services. Emphasising education improvement, he directed that at least one classroom in every school be converted into a smart class.

rassed in the public forum, unable to offer a suitable defense, while the audience enjoyed the dramatic confrontation. The MLA's public display was a calculated move after repeated private attempts to address the issues were ignored.

Fear in the forest: ACS takes the reins

In a key department dealing with "water and forests" (Jal-Jangal), an Additional Chief Secretary (ACS) has established an absolute grip, creating an atmosphere of fear and rendering the traditionally powerful cadre helpless. Sources indicate that the ACS has effectively ly bypassed the Head of the Department (HoD), who is now reduced to merely implementing the ACS's directives. The HoD is reportedly desperate for a change in circumstances, anxiously awaiting the day the ACS is transferred to a different portfolio.

The Protest Puzzle: Who Benefits?

The main opposition party is banking on a fresh, youthful leadership to improve its electoral performance. With a new young State President and now a new Youth Congress Chief—who faces the dual challenge of stepping out of the shadow of his predecessors and proving his mettle—the party recently orchestrated a high-profile protest against the FIR process in the capital. While the young leader's grand entry received support from seniors, the key question remains: Will the political mileage from this protest benefit the newly minted leader in establishing his presence, or will it significantly boost the fortunes of the opposition party as a whole? Only time will reveal the true impact.

Soybean model rate slides, farmers face price pressure

Bhopal: Farmers across Madhya Pradesh are experiencing a continuous drop in the model rate for soybean, signaling mounting price pressure at mandis. The official model rate released to-day stands at Rs 4,240 per quintal, marking a steady decline from the season's recent high of Rs 4,285 recorded just last week on November 22nd.

The continuous fall is a concern for producers, forcing them to sell their produce significantly below the Minimum Support Price (MSP). The MSP for soybean has been set at Rs 5,328 per quintal this year.

This model rate is critical as it forms the basis for calculating compensation under the Bhavantar Bhugtan Yojana (Price Difference Payment Scheme). Farmers who sold their soybean in the mandi yard will receive the difference between the model rate and the higher MSP directly from the government. The current rate is just slightly above the initial model rate of Rs 4,020 per quintal released on November 7th. The state administration is under scrutiny to manage the scheme efficiently to ensure farmers are compensated quickly for the widening gap.

WCR accelerates track renewal drive

Boosts Rail Safety

Bhopal: West Central Railway (WCR) is rapidly advancing its maintenance activities, significantly accelerating track renewal works alongside multi-tracking and infrastructure development. Under the General Manager's guidance, the Engineering Department is prioritizing critical safety-related projects to enhance track integrity and operational security.

These high-priority tasks include Complete Track Renewal (CTR), Through Rail Renewal, Through Sleeper Renewal, Through Turnout Renewal, and Deep Screening. Since these works directly impact safety, they are executed meticulously under traffic blocks, ensuring stringent safety standards are met. In the first seven months of the current fiscal year (2025-26), WCR has reported impressive progress: achieving 238.82 track km of rail renewal, 153.46 track km of sleeper renewal, 241 units of turnout renewal, and 386.63 track km of deep screening. This vigorous renewal effort has substantially strengthened the track structure, leading to notable improvements in the safe and smooth running of passenger trains. WCR remains focused on its targets, placing railway safety as its highest operational priority.
